“ Barb, Morgan and Daniel. My heart ached when I saw Connor's obituary. Although I don't know that I ever met him, I loved him vicariously through you, Barb and Morgan. Daniel, we might have met years ago, I'm not certain, but as the father, like you, of a son and a daughter, I can only begin to imagine all the emotions you are experiencing.

Barb and Morgan, I hold in my heart great memories from Scioto Ridge where you, Morgan, were one of my sweet young ladies and you, Barb, worked with me on to address so many important issues. I cherish those times as I know you do those with Connor.

I know the memories of good times with him and the love, prayers and support of the countless friends will continue to carry you through the days and years ahead. Please know you all are loved and that I'm praying for you and thinking of you.
