“ We often say the hour of death cannot forecast. When we say this we imagine this hour would be in a distant future. We never thought we would be thinking about Aaron as a memory. Aaron did his best to prepare us for his passing, however it still came as a shock and still feels a bit unreal. We all have memories of Aaron but one thing they all have in common is the way he love and lived for his family. We are all blessed to have been part of his life. Aaron would light up any room he would walk into, and he would put a lasting touch on anyone he met. He definitely did for me. He taught me so much about life. Aaron was a role model to so many. He was the strongest most positive person just like his mother and father. Aaron was one of a kind, he did things in his own way. He was so independent. If life threw him an obstacle he would tackle it effortlessly. Aaron loved cars, loved them. He could tell you the type of car it was just by listening to the engine. If you wanted to start a conversation with Aaron it'd be mentioning fast cars. Not only was Aaron an amazing person, he was an amazing son, brother, uncle, friend and so much more. Aaron you grew into a young man of honor with high morals. A man who will always be loved and missed. I know we ask ourselves, “what is a life without Aaron?” But I know he wants us to live our lives for him. Aaron if you hear me thank you for touching my life, and many others. You took my heart & others hearts with you when you were taken from us. You left us too soon. It's not fair and I hate it, but I know you are no longer suffering. I know you are taken care of in heaven. Your gonna be one of God's best angels. Your my angel. I'll see you again one day Aaron, I love you. -Madi
