“ I can't stop thinking about all of this, Dad. I can't wrap my head around this. I am so sad. And angry, not at you, but at the situation. Now, all the people that love you have to figure out how to fill the void that you left. You were so big...not in stature, but in personality. And now...it's just weird. I can't believe that you're gone...I can't sleep because my mind races and I am searching for answers. Nikki is too, Dad. We're all a mess. I hope you remember all the things I told you a million times. I love and miss you, Dad. So so very much. Xoxo Tye-Tye

“ I’m so speechless right now, 2023 has felt so unreal, I know grandma missed you grandpa and she needed you to come home but this pain is so unbearable. I don’t even know how to explain it. I promised to help take care of you grandpa and I did. I’m glad i didn’t leave your side at all. I know you felt 10x better knowing we were there beside you. We’re sad you’re gone but we’re glad you’re not in pain anymore. We all hated seeing you in so much pain, we love you grandpa. I promise to take care of mom and the kids, I know they’re struggling but wont show it. I love you with all my heart grandpa, not a day goes by that I don’t cry my eyes out and wish you were still here. I know we’ve had problems and I’m glad we moved past them. I sleep in your room with a pillow of you and grandma wishing you were still here. But I know I can’t change this and bring you back so I’ll just have to wait and see you and grandma in heaven. Save a spot for me💔.

“ Dear Al my oldest brother. My heart is shattered. I am so incredibly sad. I hope you know how much you were loved and how much you will be missed. I have so many precious memories of us. As a little girl I looked up to you. You were always my best babysitter. As we got older no matter the distance we always kept in touch. I will miss our daily phone calls, the Happy Birthday and holiday calls every year. You fought so hard and so long, you were so strong. I know that you are at peace now in the arms of our loving father. You will always be in my heart. We had a special bond. Rest easy Al until we meet again.

“ Oh man I don't even know where to start. It hurts so bad knowing you're gone. I sleep in your room every night on the floor. I can't stop looking at your pictures. It repeats in my head your voice telling me that I'll always be your girl. I hope I made you and grandma proud. I love you grandpa.

“ Dearest Dad, you know how much I hate this and how heartbroken I am. I have always sought your guidance and advice in so many areas of my life, and now I feel lost. You have been my biggest supporter and my rock. From all the way back to when I was a baby, you have been my very best friend, always telling me straight and not just what I wanted to hear. You taught me dignity, respect, kindness, compassion, to be a fighter and most of all, love. No matter where I have been, you were always a phone call away. Always my first call when anything good happened or anything bad. These past few years have been hard, Dad. All I wanted was to save you and I couldn't. I would give anything to change this. I know I have been lucky to have you for so long, but it still doesn't feel like long enough. Nikki and I worked together, like you wanted, to make all of this your way, even when it went against my best judgement, I let you drive the ship. We argued a lot about what was best for you, more than we should have, and that is 100% my fault. Just know, it was all from a place of love. You have been the best Dad. God chose the perfect Dad for me. I love you so much, Dad. I will miss you for the rest of my life. God answered my prayers to bring you home, (so you could be home and eat ice cream) then to hear your voice one more time. I know for sure you made it home, one of God's chosen ones. I know it was a big reunion, with your beloved Karen, Nan and Grandpa, Ron, Linda, Rosie, and all the friends you've lost along the way. Please save me a seat, Daddio, I will sit next to you when I get there. I am so proud of you and proud to be your daughter. You truly are Ironman. xoxo Tyree Renee

*My friend my brother in law ,55 years of knowing you. Doing crazy things and just knowing if either of us needed anything the other would be there....
You will truly be missed 😭
But I have great memories and lots of stories to tell.....
Hope you are dancing with the family and at peace. My friend ❤️ love.
Forever*
