“ I will miss Amy's smile and personality. When we worked together many years ago she was always helpful in many ways. One was lending her gift of art for the end of the year program. The years went on, we kept contact. Amy sent me early childhood materials from Japan for my class which I have used every year. I sent her candy corn and Real Simple Magazine. We always kept some kind of contact. I am very lucky to have had her in my life. There are so many good things I could say about Amy, I am sorry for your lose.

“ Dear June & Louie, Although we never had the priviledge of meeting Amy,the news of her passing was so sad, she is gone too soon. No expression of sympathy, no matter how deeply felt, can help much right now, but we wanted to let you know that our thoughts are with you and the rest of her family.

“ Akira, June, Lou and Michael and family, Deepest sympathy love and strength for the loss of your wife, daughter, sister, aunt and friend to many. Amy was a good friend, always warm, caring, thoughtful and cheerful. I am one of many who are lucky to have shared in her life and will miss her always. I am reminded of her conversations about beauty in flowers, art, family, life in Japan and the US, travels and her spirit to enjoy life. Rest in Peace Amy and we will continue to smile as we remember time we had with you and the energy you gave us. Much love, Ingrid

“ Dear Akira, June, Lou and Michael, I'm so sad for Amy's passing. I have lost a great friend and I am so sad for all of you; your wonderful wife, daughter and sister. Amy always had a positive, happy energy around her. When around her I always smiled and laughed more. We had been partners on photo projects at Salve. When she had visited me I loved her fun, motivated and inspired plans...she would always make lists. We would get an hour walk in, kayak, and take in some art or try to work with my old 4 by 5 camera. Love you Amy. Carolyn

“ I was so shocked that I was speechless when I heard the loss of Amy. I did not know how she had struggled with illness..and it' much too late but I wish I could do anything for her. I'll never forget the days I shared with her, it's like my treasure box I always have and will have forever. It made me so happy to see her smile. Akira, Amy's mom, dad and Michel, Further to my shock, it hurts my heart when I thinks how you all are saddened by her loss. I believe that she will always with you with the warm-hearted. It's so difficult time now, however, I do hope you take care of yourself and do create more strong bond in future. Please forgive me that I cannot attend the funeral service. I am thinking of you and praying for you in this time of loss here in Japan.

“ I met Amy about two years ago, through a mutual friend, Jhenifer Johnson. While I never got to know Amy as well as Jhen did, I always looked forward to talking with her at our girls night dinners. She was just a joy to be around. Funny, self-deprecating, sarcastic yet optimistic, she lit up the room. And she was involved in so much! She always had something going on, some project or plan she was working on. She inspired me to do more with my time. Our girls night dinners won't be the same without her. I will miss her.

“ When anyone's life intersected with hers, Amy lit up the room, the city, the sidewalk or garden path. Her sheer verve, intelligence, love of life and generosity to friends was exceptional. People improved around Amy, and that includes me. I thank June, Akira and Amy plus her circle of fantastic friends for a never-to-be forgotten experience of Japan. She was amazing! She is mourned in a path around the planet.

“ I first met Amy unpacking our gear and trying to find our freshmen dorm room in Miley Hall at SRU. I knew from the moment we said Hi that she was going to be a special person in my life. She was infectious, funny, spirited, mischievous, unique, loyal and loving. Needless to say we endeavored on many an adventurous journey many of them firsts for both of us. Life separated us for many years and I was blessed to reconnect with Amy right before her return to the States and I realized that beyond the occasional thought of where life had brought her I had truly missed her as a companion more than I had realized. I thank God that we were able to reconnect and wish that we were able to spend more time together before Cancer stole her away from us. My life has been truly enriched knowing her and I can't help but feel that the world is duller without her light in it. Akira you are a wonderful man and husband please take solace that Amy is no longer in pain and in all the memories of your wonderful life together. To Amy's family I wish that words can alleviate the grief but I know they don't, however know that Amy was well respected, loved and admired by her friends. Amy's beautiful soul, laughter, smile and twinkling eyes will always be remembered.
