“ I was Audrey's PT when I lived in Austintown in early 2000's. I remember her fondly as grandma Audrey because of her care and gifts to my kids. I still take time to remember on her birthday for all the kind things she did for me and my family. Rest in the Prince of Peace!

“ I will forever remember the endless back scratches she gave me growing up. Whenever she visited the first thing I did was run over to her to lay my head on her lap and be comforted by her gentle scratches.

My favorite saying of hers was "what do you know?" which she would always respond with when she asked me something and I said I didn't know.

I never understood it, but she loved watching WWE wrestling. I always thought she was crazy to follow it, but anytime I see it on TV or hear about it I'm reminded of her so it has an oddly special place in my heart.
