“ My deepest condolences go out to the family and close friends of Betty Tomazic who for the last year of her life heroically struggled through her life of restriction due to disability.

As long as I've known Betty she was always a very independent, confident woman. She was intelligent and very wise about life in itself, running her home as efficiently as a well-tuned machine. Her love and focus was always for her family. Every Year at Christmas she literally “ran” our holiday parties, from the menu to the coordination of getting all of the food and gifts to her sister's home which was large enough to house the whole gang. Our family Christmas celebrations were always filled with much fun and that was due mostly to her natural knack for arranging family gatherings.

Betty was not only the perfect party planner, but she was also the perfect Grandmother to my daughter Sonya. Every summer Sonya would visit her Grandma and Grandpa Tomazic who lived practically on Lake Erie. They filled her days with so many precious, priceless memories she will always have and hold dear to her heart. Sonya was the “Queen” on her visits and they allowed her to go to her Aunt Theresa's favorite public pool daily and enjoy all the aspects of summer with Theresa and her gang. Mind you, they did this for her even though Betty could not stay too long in the sun uncovered. They took her to Cedar Point, and several other places of fun. She also had the opportunity of taking a few Lake Erie day cruises with them. But most of all just to play with her Grandma and Grandpa to her hearts content.

On a personal scale Betty was like a mother to me. I loved my mother and she was a wonderful woman, but I learned more about life and people from Betty. As a young woman when I asked her for her son Glenn's favorite recipes she said she would not give them to me. Instead she insisted that I come to her home where she preceded to make the dish and give me all those tips of perfection you don't usually find in a recipe. Well now you can watch those on most cooking shows but in the late 70's they didn't exist. I'd have to say she could have had her own cooking show if someone in TV Land would have been that innovative.

Over the years Betty has been a mother type figure, a friend, and a confident, always eager to help me travel through life with more wisdom and understanding of people. I think that is why people instantly fell in love with her fun and outgoing ways when they met her. She lived life the same way she taught life to me and I will always remember her and miss her.

I know she passed from our lives because Our Lord knew she was ready to enter his home. I'm trying to find content in the fact that she is now free from her disability and back to her normal independent soul.

I feel much love and gratitude for the woman who has impacted my life so deeply.
