“ My sister BJ was what I call "the wildfire of our hearts". She never ceased to amaze us with her strength and love. She always kept us on our toes and I would do anything to hear one of her stories just one more time. She was an extremely loyal sister, mother, and friend. Our hearts will continue to heal for her but will never be the same, for the fire is out. I only hope B has found the peace her soul desperately needed and that her spirit will continue to burn. I love u, baby girl. Sleep well...

“ I was very sad when I heard of the worlds loss today. I had met BJ four or so years ago in the struggles of our lives. She was always there for me, as I hope I was for her. Although at some point we took different paths I will always remember BJ as a light. No matter the circumstances I could always see how pure of heart she was. She is one of those I will never forget and will always think about.

“ My heart is touched with such sadness for your family, your beautiful children and the loss of you, BJ. Your ability to ride through the waves, fight the storms and battle back to a place you knew was good and safe was both inspiring, heartbreaking and familiar. I so admired your guts and 'realness'. Your genuine humility and loving spirit will always be remembered. Be at peace. I will keep your family and beautiful children in my prayers always.

“ Billie Jean Little Soldier was one of the exceptional people in the world. She was the most giving person you would ever meet. And when a person like her leaves us, the world gets a bit darker. And I was lucky enough to have her as an aunt. Rest In Peace, aunt B.B

“ Your easy smile changed with time, but it was always there. I learned so much from just listening and watching your struggles and small triumphs over the years. I know that the spirits are enriched by her presence on the other side. Go freely to a better place. We will miss you dearly and remember you well.

“ BJ was free spirit with a light that shone on all who knew her. She had a kind and generous heart and loved her family above all. The world is a darker place for her having left it but I know she now has the peace and happiness she always sought. I love her more than anyone could know; she was my best friend and I will always miss her.
