“ *I Remember by Roxana Schultz I remember... The time you wiped my tears away. I remember... I remember... The many times you walked me through The rough paths And led me to the right ones Yes, I remember... And I will never forget Your smile The one that lit up the room And I will never forget Your loving heart Accepting for strangers And welcoming for the less fortunate As a little girl You showed me what a mom was really like As a pre teen You helped me understand what I was about to become And as a teenager You helped me be me And though you won't be there physically for the rest of my life I know in my heart you'll be there And in my mind I'll hear your voice saying "I'm so proud" Your loving goddaughter,

“ Our dearest Carolyn, You were not only a first cousin to Steve, but I enjoyed the times that we spent on Quilting Thursday's and usually lunch at "The Pig". A week ago Thursday, we discussed what each of us wanted in our "trinket drawer". Never in my wildest dreams did I realize that God was preparing you and your "trinket drawer". You were the one cousin that always knew what the rest of the cousins were doing in their lives. We could always rely on you for keeping everyone informed. Your kindness and generosity was a part of your everyday life. I will miss the 11 o'clock calls at night and the early morning calls that we shared. We will remember how you helped with making pew bows and altar arrangements for our Stephanie and Phil's wedding. We were discussing your plans to come to Florida and visit us this winter. Stephanie told me what a good time she and Heather had with you scrapbooking prior to her school opening. She also shared that you were helping her make my Christmas gift. Your dear friend Rose, told me she would help Stephanie finish whatever the two of you were working on. I write this with tears streaming down my face. You touched so many lives. I know that your "Chicago family" must be heart broken. I remember helping you wrap their Christmas gifts last year. I do want Daniel and Diana and Roxanna to know how much you loved them and always wanted the best for them and their future lives. We must all accept that you were not finished with your life on this earth, but those of us left must carry on, but always know that you will be in our hearts and minds. St.Clair family gatherings will have an "empty spot" as well as the "Schultz" family. We will lift each other up in prayer as we continue on our life's journey. Much love, Steve & Joyce

“ I've known Carolyn for over 40 years, and we've traveled the United States on vacations, for work, and our families became best friends. I remember Carolyn's mother's cooking, and her brother Mike's incredible sense of humor. Carolyn was the pillar that kept the whole family together. To everyone's life she touched, she was a blessing. She believed in the "pay it forward" philosophy of doing God's work on Earth. Without her help, the children's lives would have been less of value, for she invested time, love, and attention. She always encouraged them to get the best grades, and to be the best they could be all the time, and to never quit trying. She tried to teach them not to be selfish, but care for others more than themselves, by her example. She's been there for the kids through sickness and in health, making the trip from Columbus to Chicago several times every year since they arrived here from Romania in 2002. She will be painfully missed. We put together a brief video of some of the last 8 years of her visits with us and the children (copy the URL and remove the dash after the 'h', then paste it in the URL window of your browser): h-ttp://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Cy0GSavLR8M

“ I met Carolyn at CAS about 1965, and worked with her for many years. She was a sweet person, always had a smile for you and words of encouragement. She was wonderful to work with. She will be deeply missed by us on earth and welcomed in heaven.

“ I had the pleasure of getting to know Carolyn through papercrafting. Hearing her voice and seeing her smile anytime she stopped in the store made me smile, too. She was the kindest, sweetest person and she will be greatly missed.

“ I had privilege of being her hairdresser for 25 years-I valued her as a dear friend and client. She was always doing or thinking about what she could do for others. We have truly lost a special person-she will be sorely missed by all who knew her.

“ How lucky I was to know Carolyn and what a difference she made in peoples lives and hearts. I know, even now, she will be looking after Daniel, Diana and Roxy!

“ I've had the pleasure of working with Carolyn for many years. Just seeing her a week ago at the CAS dinner was the highlight of that evening. I deeply regret that I will not be able to celebrate her life and give my deepest sympathies to her family on Saturday. (The UMW (United Methodist Women) at my church are having an annual function and are depending on me to help. I think that Carolyn would understand.)

“ Carolyn was quite literally an angel for our kids. She always gave unselfishly of her time for them and loved them as her own. Our terrible loss is heaven's gain. I thank God for bringing her into our lives and for the time we were allowed to be part of her life.
