

Charles Darling

October 7, 1942 - March 20, 2017

Charles R. Darling Sr.'s Life In Words What can I say about Charles R. Darling Sr.? I met Charles when I was 13 and he was 14. His cousin Bud helped us to meet. He was my best friend first, then my boyfriend, husband, and lover for 55 years. I will always love him. He was and still is the only man for me. His loving wife, Violet J, Darling He was born on October 7th, 1942 He passed away on March 20th, 2017 at 1:10 AM He was in the Marine Corp. from 1961-1963 He was a truck driver from 1963-1965 He was a roofer from 1965-1972. He was a welder from 1972-1982. He was a Columbus Public School bus driver from 1986-2004. He was married to Violet J. Darling for 55 years. They were together for 60 years. My father Charles R. Darling Sr. was the strongest man we had the pleasure of knowing. He taught us things about life that some people will go their entire lives without knowing. He was always there when we needed a strong male voice to keep guiding us in the right direction. He was a loving husband to an amazing woman, father to six children, grandfather to eight grandchildren, and great grandfather to fourteen great grandchildren. He is where he needs to be, and we are all celebrating this man that influenced our lives and made them richer just by being there. Love Always, Your Daughter Kimberly K. (Darling) Savage. My father was my best friend and he taught me a lot, about life like how to hunt, fish, play baseball, and how to have a great work ethic. He always told me, "Dick always look out for number one, because no one else will." I will miss and love my father and my best friend forever! May you Rest In Peace. Semper FI! USMC Forever!
