

Colten Groves

January 26, 2008

Colten H. Groves, age 19, of Columbus, suddenly January 26, 2008. Preceded in death by grandfather Clarence Groves Sr., grandmother Patricia Ann Groves, uncle James C. Groves. Survived by father, Clarence (Lora) Groves; mother, DeAnna Groves (Dana); grandparents, Sandi and Dean Finley; brothers and sisters, Rick, Nikki, Ron, Sarah, Jessie, Brooke, Cory, Jalisa, Chloe; nieces, Teniyia and Hayleigh; girlfriend, Sabrina Akers; other relatives and many friends. Funeral Service 10:30 a.m. Thursday, January 31, 2008, at RUTHERFORD-CORBIN FUNERAL HOME, 515 High St., Worthington, OH 43085, where friends may call 2-4 and 6-8 p.m. Wednesday, January 30, 2008. Burial Union Cemetery.

Tribute Wall

“ Colten Groves

January 28, 2023 at 10:24 AM

“ hey colten its ashley t.j.'s sister you are the brightest, funniest person i ever met. my stomach was always hurting when you were around. i was very lucky to know someone like you. you are a great person and ill never forget you. what a wonderful person you were and you were taken from us. i am sorry to all of colten's family and you'll always be in my prayers. love ashley

ashley underwood - June 05, 2008 at 12:00 AM

“ It was only yesterday when your dad phoned all of us to say” hello world I have a new son!” It was only yesterday I held you in my arms when your little smile and bright eyes looked back at me It was only yesterday I was there to see you blow out your candles on your birthday cake then seeing cake all over your face. It was only yesterday I chatted with a young boy when you asked me what it was like to be a big person It was only yesterday we have seen you off to your 1st day of school in your new clothes and your lunch box in hand ready to go to your very 1st job It was only yesterday when we all seen, you make that winning play to bring the team to victory It was only yesterday I patched you back up after you fell off your bike. You ran back to your bike before getting on you looked back at me and waved, then peddled off. So, you could keep up with the other kids. It was only yesterday I watch you watch the other people around you as they opened your Christmas presents hoping it was the perfect gift they wanted. It was only yesterday we were at the museum as you studied, the exhibits then to see the look in your eyes as if you knew the answer to your own questions It was only yesterday when I heard you cheering louder than the crowd at the OSU Football game and for that racecar that came in last at the Indy 500. It was only yesterday seeing you off to your first high school dance. It was only Yesterday when you got your drivers license and seeing how proud you were of your achievement as you took that next step in becoming a man It was only Yesterday We saw you in your cap and gown as your received your diploma and you turned away knowing that life’s road was now waiting for you It was only yesterday I would see you coming home after working a long hard day and ready to go back the next morning. It was only yesterday I seen a young boy turn into a man with a woman on your arm that laughed at your jokes and shared with your hopes and dreams. It was only yesterday that we walked and talked together. We will walk and talk together, you and me once again in our special place in my heart so I am not saying good-bye but until we see each other once again. We will walk and talk together So please do not cry for me we will be together once more As if, it was only yesterday From A Loving Child

Mr. R White - February 07, 2008 at 12:00 AM

LH

“ To the Family and Friends of Colten, I would like to express my deepest sympathy to each of you. The loss of a loved one weighs our hearts down heavy with grief but our Heavenly Father comforts us with the hope to be reunited with them by means of a resurrection on a paradise earth; John 5:28,29;Psalms 37:11,29. May this precious hope that awaits us and the treasured memories of Colten bring you a measure of comfort at this difficult time.

Lynda Harris - January 31, 2008 at 12:00 AM

LE

“ DeAnna, We are all so sorry to hear of Colten's death. We enjoyed having him in the office working with us. Our prayers are with you and the family at this time and hope that your good memories of him help you get through the tougher times. Love from all of us at Livingston

Livingston Seed Employees - January 30, 2008 at 12:00 AM