“ One day Dave and I were at Mr and Mrs Cordles house and just by chance I had a few moments alone with Mr Cordle , out of the blue he said "you know Danny , I'm so proud of the fathers my sons are " , and my response was " well they couldn't be anything else " , he looked puzzled and asked what I meant , so I said the obvious that they had such a great example that they couldn't help but be great fathers like him . He looked a little surprised then put his arm around me , leaned in real close and simply said " thank you Danny " . That made my heart so warm but that's just who he was , he made people just feel better and the world was better with him in it . Condolences and much love to the Cordle family , we have all lost a truly great , kind and decent man
