“ Dan, I have known you since middle school; throughout high school whether it was during high school soccer or just being a friend we have always been close. I just wanted to let you know that you were a great friend who always brought the best out of each person. No problem was too big for you to conquer. I remember the time where our soccer coach would always put you against the tallest person on the other team but that never stopped you. During high school we became closer and closer and became brothers. You always had a great reputation with us and was called Dan “The Man” for that reason. We all miss you so much and know you will continue to guide us through our problems and be the man.
