

Daniel Whittaker

November 30, 1959 - September 5, 2023

Daniel S. Whittaker, 63, of Venice Florida, died unexpectedly in the early morning of Tuesday September 5th, 2023, in Columbus Ohio. He was born November 30th, 1959, to Rodney and Sue Whittaker in Portsmouth Ohio. He married his soul mate Melanie Whittaker on November 2nd, 2007, in Columbus Ohio.

Dann was a man of many trades and talents, but his true loves were radio, broadcasting, music, and his family. No one would argue that Dann was a hard worker, and there was no greater proof than the company he started in 2006, We3Co. He would go on to take that start-up, and continue working with Melanie, and countless others behind the scenes, to start ShoPros Ohio LLC, a live events services provider. He took much pride in his work and always took pride in being able to provide for his family and do the work that he loved.

Dann was always known for his friendly, affable, and most sociable personality; it could easily be said that he never knew a stranger and that meeting him for the first time felt just like reconnecting with an old friend you hadn't seen in years.

His sense of humor never failed to entertain, and he was known for quickly and easily amusing any crowd he was in front of no matter how big or small. He will always be remembered for quickly leaving an unforgettable impression on everyone he met.

When not busy working, Dann was often found enjoying live events with his family and friends. Whether he was attending concerts, showing off his DJ skills, or simply relaxing around the house enjoying some of his favorite tunes, there was no denying the importance music played in his life.

Dann will always be fondly remembered for the deep love he had for his family and how he took every opportunity to express just how proud he was of his children and grandchildren. Dann was never shy about taking the time to make sure they felt loved and ensuring that they knew they could always count on him to be there for them when needed day or night. His humor, wisdom, insight, reasoning, and logical advice will be sorely missed by all who were close to him.

Dann is survived by his loving wife Melanie, sons Brenden Whittaker, Christopher (Erica) Whittaker, and Michael "Mick" Williams Jr., daughters Miranda (Cory) Seitz, and Marta (Pat) Bloom, Brother Chris (Laura) Whittaker, Nephew Jake (Hope) Whittaker, grandchildren Joseph Whittaker, CJ, Maddie, and Molly Seitz, as well as many beloved aunts, uncles, and cousins.

Dann was preceded in death by his son Cory Whittaker, parents Rodney and Sue Whittaker, and numerous other family members.

“ I met Dann 33 years ago and this time hasn't been long enough! I learned so much from him about entrepreneurialism, branding, live production, marketing and life. He always made my day a little brighter when I got to talk or communicate with him. During the grand opening build up for the Morgantown Mall we spoke almost every day and I looked forward to it. He made work fun and had some a positive, "let's get it done" attitude. He is going to be missed by so, so many people, and I am proud to have called him friend all of these years. I can't wait to see him again soon just a little farther down the river. Godspeed.

“ What a bright light he was. I believe we first worked together when I was at Kroger in 1995ish and he called on me, but it could have been earlier than that. Always a funny guy, always so very positive and uplifting. Know that he was honest, forthright, kind and generous.
