“ Uncle Dave, my Godfather was an amazing person who lived to be the best he could for his family, always talking about his sons. Daughter in laws, and Grandchildren. He was so proud of them. The memories of him I will never forget. He was always so proud of his cars, house and yard. Being small and going to their house for birthdays and holidays were always fun. When Uncle Dave got his first stereo T.V we watched Beverly Hills Cop, he had it on so loud, and kept saying "listen to that stereo". Also driving to Cedar Point with him in his Cavalier, I think he talked the whole time about the ride quality for a small car. There are so many more. He also was a person I would call when I had questions about anything. He would always listen to me and I would feel good after the conversation. Uncle Dave also valued my opinion about cars, he would call me with questions about them. He will be missed. I loved him....What a great guy, husband, father, grandfather, uncle, and mentor.

“ I have had the pleasure of working beside Dave for a long time. He is truly the definition of what a man should be. A great husband, father, mentor and friend. What you see with Butke is what you get. Character, integrity, compassion, honesty and work ethic. Dave's work ethic is unmatched. I will miss the debates over the stock market. Dave would say don't watch it everyday but he put it on my phone and of course, we would look at the DOW everyday. Rest in peace my friend I will never forget you.

Sincerely,
Larry Carfrey
