“ I first met Dixie over 35 years ago when I started dating her daughter Debbie. Even though I was a foreigner, Dixie and Gil admitted me into their home and their hearts. Over the years, she invited me to many Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners which she had lovingly prepared. We went on a vacation to Florida together and spent many evenings at our respective homes together. When the opportunity arose, we bought a home near Dixie and Gil so we could spend more time together and be there when she needed us. I will miss Dixie greatly but am comforted by the thought that she is in a better place.

Your loving son in law, Venkat Ashok.

“ Mom was a very artistic person, everything she touched she made into something beautiful. She was ahead of her time doing things that most women had not tried yet. Like working for a billboard company doing the painting of the signs. She worked for a drapery company for several years then started her own company and she loved doing the work and visiting the people. Mom loved to garden and loved finding beauty in small things like the tiniest of flowers. She was from a very artistic family but I remember most her father's work and the big Christmas card he sent, which we still have today.

From Debbie, her loving daughter.
