“ I met Donna at the University of Pittsburgh when we were both graduate students in history. She became a good friend. My wife and I invited her to our home, and I visited her parents home once when I was driving home from New Orleans. In fact, we admired and then bought a wreath her father had made. We hung it at Christmas time for several years.

After getting our P.H.D's, we both struggled to find teaching position in a very tight job market. When she moved to Ohio, we exchanging Christmas cards for several years. The last I heard from her was in 2013. At that time, she was again struggling with cancer,

In December 2018 I sent her an email, but didn't hear from her. My wife and I have fond memories of her as a wonderful, caring person and as a brilliant intellect.
