“ I was one of Mrs. Clark's second graders in 1965. I have thought of her often over the years. I remember her as being a very kind and patient lady. My deepest sympathies to her family.

“ I was "the New Boy" in Mrs. McClure's second grade classroom some time in the mid-sixties; she was a kind and attentive leader of our wild troop, back in Dublin's small-town years, and managed to steer so many primary-schoolers through that year without so much as a stern word or ever raising her voice (which certainly is the least I would have deserved!). I found myself thinking of her just the other day; she left a firm but gentle (and long-lived) impression. My condolences to Julie and the rest of the family.
