“ Sincere condolences to the Kulina family for the loss of their father, Frank. He certainly lived a long and productive life.

I have many fond memories of time spent with the clan. My parents, Keith and Dodie Van Buskirk, were part of a large contingent of friends from St. Michael. Couples such as the Palencars, Albers, Eiferts, Murrays, Reicherts, (to name a few) took part over the years playing on the church baseball team, bowling on Friday nights for 30 years (was it Capri Lanes?) and were involved in the infamous Ohio State vs Michigan group.

It was so much fun having the freedom to run around the bowling alley (with Carolyn) while our parents bowled, getting candy from the vending machines, hanging out in the locker room, steering clear of the mysterious, pitch dark bar area, etc.

Ahhh, the infamous OSU/Michigan group! Our parents had the best time planning their bus trip to Michigan or preparing for the arrival of the Michigan bunch. (Did they ever even go to the games?) So many stories to tell of all the antics, costumes, skits, songs, etc. they created. Two of my favorite involved some nurses from the Michigan group who managed to secretly put something in the drinks of the Ohio couples that actually made them GO BLUE when they lifted the toilet lid in the bathroom!

Another Michigan shenanigan involved waking up one morning (near game day) to find a FOR SALE sign in our front yard courtesy of the Wolverine Realty. We actually received a few calls from interested buyers.

I remember being the lucky recipient of a lot of unique Buckeye memorabilia (giant foam hats, blinking necklaces, crazy T shirts, etc.) that was retired each year as the group started making bigger and better plans for the next OSU vs Michigan game week.

Needless to say, these couples had many hilarious adventures through the years and truly demonstrated a genuine joie de vivre!

Thanks for all the wonderful memories, Mr. and Mrs. Kulina.
