“ Dear Sally and Family, It is with much sadness that I learned of my cousin Freddy's passing. My deepest sympathy to you and the children. Though we had a chance to meet you and visit with Fred a few times, my fondest memories of Freddy are as a child and early teenage years. I recall his behind the scenes Vietnam stories but mostly I looked up to Freddy as an older brother. I used to get so excited as a child when Freddy would sometimes spend the night at our house. Fred had one of those winning personalities and a certain spark of life that just made you feel important and very comfortable around him. He always gave some of his time to me. His career took him to Ohio and Sally was very generous with her annual family updates, my Mother really enjoyed and appreciated those letters and pictures. By all accounts Fred had a wonderful family and made tons of friends in Ohio like a life time before in Virginia. A piece of my childhood is gone with Freddy's passing but I am grateful for and will remember the good times as I am sure all of you will in your own way. He's left a powerful, promising legacy in his children and that is a great achievement. All of Fred's cousins here in Richmond express condolences with this Jewish saying..."may his memory be for a blessing". Fondly, David Feibish

“ Shiner Family, It is with deep sorrow that I learned of Fred's passing. My memories of Fred while I worked in the Uniontown, PA office (10 years) and the Waldorf, MD office (6 years) of the Associates brings back a lot of great memories. He was a true leader and those that worked for him directly or indirectly are better people today because of his leadership. May God grant Sally, Jenna and Michael peace and comfort during this very difficult time. You are all in my prayers and may God take Fred by hand and lead him into eternal peace in heaven.

“ Sally, Jenna and Mike, my thoughts and prayers are with you and your family. I will really miss Fred and the friendship we developed over the past three years. My Sunday mornings and Thursday evenings at the bowling alley will never be the same without Fred. On Sunday mornings, Fred was usually at the bowling alley before me and he already had my name in the computer before I arrived so we could throw a game or two before the other bowlers arrived. Fred was a great competitor, a fun person to be around, and I always looked forward to the interesting conversations we had together. We talked about many things and family was the single most important item to Fred. Fred was very proud of Jenna and Mike and loved both of them very deeply. He often spoke of their accomplishments. Fred was a great friend that I will miss.
