“ I only knew Fred to waive at him as I walked by his house. He would always say hello. I miss seeing him and Pippa on my walks.

“ Fred was the best neighbor anyone could ask for. He was kind and caring. He was very witty and there are several Fred quotes we use around the house. Fred grew the best tomatoes we've ever had. He took care of his neighbors even when it didn't seem easy to do so. His presence will be missed. We loved him. -Durbin and Mary Kerr

“ Fred was a great neighbor and friend. He was also very observant. He could articulate his observances quite well in his writings to the appropriate people involved in what he observed. This shook up things on more than one occasion at Upper Arlington City Hall. Good for you Fred! I'm happy you're with Joy and the dogs again.

“ Fred was such a warm, upbeat person who cared about others. As a widow he missed his wife, Joy, and the many dogs they shared through the years. And he made sure to spoil his dog, Pippa, until the end. He set a good example of handling illness and discomfort with grace.
