“ I have only a few words that my sister and brothers share with me in expressing. Dad fought health issues that sadly escalated and that finally overcame his best efforts and determination. At the end, though, Dad passed away peacefully and is now with Mom and our other brothers; Mark, Chuck, and Harry. We will miss Dad and he will be in our thoughts often because memories do last a lifetime.

“ Dad- I still want to wish you a Happy Veterans' Day; thank you for serving this country, and what it means to me. I remember, both, when you took me along when YOU went fishing or hunting ... then later WE went fishing and hunting together. You taught me a work ethic worth passing along to my children and grandchildren. With a cane for an injured ankle, you went to work hauling stone. For 10+ years, we road to work together AFTER YOU got up and packed our lunches! Meeting all of our needs and some of our wants taught me to live the difference. I'll miss you, but will always remember you as the dad I got to have. Love, Ralph

“ I am so sorry to the family for your loss. I work with Molly and I have only heard stories about how wonderful you were. I have met Ralph so I did see what wonderful job you did there. Ralph seems to be a wonderful husband/father so he had to have learned those traits from his dad. Sit back and think of all the wonderful memories that have been made and smile this will help ease your pain. Everyone keep your heads up and smile for George.

“ You were certainly a father to be desired; instead of mine. The lightning crashed and the thunder rolled the night you passed over! George, I'm so glad that I spent the times with you and shared each thought of gratitude with you that I had. You served many people in unique ways. You stopped reading, watching TV, and even sleeping many a time to visit with us when we dropped in. I'll always enjoy my rocker. The good qualities and the character in Ralph (what a husband, father, family man!) are a tribute to you. My mind is set on the memory of your laugh with a smile and a twinkle in those baby blue eyes. I thank my God on every remembrance of you. What a family you held together for over 73 years! Thank you, Molly
