BASHUR George Bashur of Powell, OH died unexpectedly on March 22, 2010. Born June 11, 1953 in McKeesport, PA and preceded in death by his parents Kenneth and Laura Bashur. He is survived by his loving wife Mary (Spagnolo), and their three children: Daniel (Amie) Bashur, Jacyln (Michael) Venne, Christopher (Vanessa) Bashur, and two beloved grandchildren Matthew and Courtney Bashur, and two closest friends John Keating, and Brian Usher. George remained an avid Pittsburgh sports enthusiast after relocating his family to Columbus in 1986 to work with Paul Werth and Associates, where he became accredited in public relations, winning Prism awards for various client campaigns. In 1996 he founded his own business "gbapr". He was a devoted family man, a talented writer, comedian, artist, creative chef, and accomplished baker. He leaves this world behind always acknowledging that a man's true wealth, is measured by his family, and the love he created, and was certainly surrounded by. He will be sadly missed. “ My dearest Mary and family, It's hard to find words of comfort at such a very sad time. Please know you are surrounded by loved ones who are praying and lifting you up daily. We are here for you....no matter what the time or the need. May God grant you peace and comfort. Know that George will always be with you. He certainly did know how to measure wealth. All anyone need do is look at his loving family! Much sympathy and love, Cindi & Craig
