“ Dear Jeannie, Sandy, Diane, and Billy, I know your hearts are heavy with grief now, as ours' are for you. I also know that Boots was ready to go and be with all those who had gone before him. I know that Daddy and Jr. will be glad to see him. Always know that we love him, as we do all of you. There are wonderful memories of time spent together, both at our home and yours. I won't ever forget your Daddy's laughter when he would tease us or when he and Dad would be talking about the times they had. We will be thinking of you now and in the days to come that God may give you an extra helping of his love and peace to get you through each today. Please come see us sometime when you are in Kentucky. We love you now and always, The Vincents.
