“ George is one of the kindest men I ever met. He was always full of joy and often expressed his love that he has for his family. I loved to see him light up with a big smile everytime he talked about the memories of him and his wife dancing and when he referred to his family members. He would often tell me about how he loved his family so much and he was so proud of them. Earth lost an amazing man but heaven gained someone full of joy. I thank God for allowing me to have George as my friend.
