“ First of all, let me offer my condolences to his daughter Kim and the rest of his family. Kim kept in touch with us during Glenn's final year, and all of us really appreciated that.

I know how hard all of you worked to love and support Glenn during his long illness. He was a very lucky man to have all of you in his corner during that difficult time.

Glenn and I communicated for about seven years on the Udorn, Thailand Army Security Agency forum he started, which brought a lot of us together after over forty years. I grew to respect and admire him during that period. I think all the guys did.

Glenn and I served at the same unit in Vietnam for a time back in 1966-1967, and later both served at a spy base near Udorn, Thailand in support of the Vietnam War, but at different times.

Glenn was a very intelligent man, who made the rank of SSG (E-6) in less than four years, which was very unusual back then, and probably still is.

Rest in peace, my friend, and thanks for your great service to our country during a time of war. Due to your exposure to Agent Orange back in Vietnam, you ended up giving your life because of that brave service to our country.

Thanks for bringing us all together. You will not be forgotten.

“ My wife and I send our most sincere condolences to Glenn's family. Glenn and I served at NSA's Ramasun Station near Udorn in Northeast Thailand in the 1966-1968 period. Glenn was a truly fine man and it was a real pleasure to know him. When he started the Yahoo Group for us Ramasun veterans to get together I was an early and continuing member. I am sorry to see him leave us here, but I know full well that he is keeping a place set for us when we are ultimately transferred for that last time.
Highest possible regards to all!

“ Glenn and I served in the Army together both on Okinawa and in Thailand. He was a good friend for over 40 years. Incredibly sharp and intelligent. We had some great times together. He will definitely be missed. I will see him at the next station.

“ I only had the privilege of knowing Glenn through the internet, wish it had been in the cards to have met in person. I found him to be witty, loved a good laugh- even at himself, but also quick with sharing info and advice.
Sorry for your loss, wish it could have been easier for him.
Remember the good times, know that he is still in the hearts of those that knew him.
