“ My sympathies to her family. Mrs. Wilson was my piano and violin teacher when we both lived on Richards Road. I have many fond memories of sitting at the piano in the dining room. She was a wonder teacher.

“ I grew up living down the street from Mrs. Fish and my first memory of her was waiting for the school bus at the edge of her driveway (1st grade). She was always outside with her cats working in her flower beds. I loved petting her cats and often ended up helping her with pulling weeds, etc.. Little did I know that her granddaughter, Keli, would end up being my best friend in high school and to this day!

After holiday dinners were over at Grandma Fish's, I would often be invited over for dessert, which later became a running joke in the family. I will always treasure these memories of "Grandma Fish" and she will be dearly missed. <3
