“ I was blessed to share many laughs with Randall during our breaks at the OSU building on Ackerman. One could always expect a smiling greeting from Randall as he would quickly entertain us with his stories. He will be missed and forever remembered by many!

“ Among life's precious jewels, Genuine and rare, The one that we call friendship Has worth beyond compare. May 9, 2012 To all that knew, Jerry Lewis was married. (I do Have the Pictures) On that Special day Jerry not only Married a woman, but got two children along with it. I think if he knew, he would have run. And honestly he would have been the fastest white man on the planet. For over 30 yrs of our lives Mary Michelle and I have had Jerry to fall back on when times were at their darkest. He was there when we needed him and always there when we had a tough question about life. And no matter what the answers were good, bad, or indifferent, Jerry would let us know. He was our Guardian Angel and in more ways than one, our Father. Today we say good bye to a true friend, a man that had changed ours lives forever, and will be truly missed. We love you Jerry, we will miss you and we can only hope that you can pull yourself away from that big “Patio Bar in the sky”, the only one you are allowed to smoke at, to watch over us and give us the advice we need to make our lives better. For ever your Son, Paul A Poem I found for Jerry: When I have no one to turn to and I am feeling kind of low When there is no one to talk to and no where to go I search deep within myself It is love inside my heart That lets me know Angles are there Even though we were miles apart A smile then appears upon my face and the sun begins to shine I hear a voice so soft and sweet Saying: “Saying everything will be just fine” It may seem that I am alone but I am never by myself at all All I had to do was call An Angel’s love is always true On that you can depend. They will always stand behind you And will always be your friend through the darkest hours and brightest days they smile when we are happy and cry when we are blue Thank you Jerry for being my Angel, my father, and MY FRIEND.
