

Jessica L. Wilt

February 11, 1977 - November 12, 2015

Jessica L Wilt, age 38, passed away peacefully on November 12, 2015 at The James Cancer Hospital surrounded by family after a courageous 18-month battle against Ewing's Sarcoma. She is a 1995 graduate of Dublin High School, received her BFA in dance from the University of South Florida, MFA in choreography from The Ohio State University and founded ArtsEdTechNYC. “ I am so sorry to have learned that Jessica passed away. My heart is broken. She appeared to embrace life and live it fully. Its tragic to me that someone so kind, so innocent, so gifted - could be taken from us. I hope she has found peace. And I will pray for Jessica's family and friends in their time of mourning.

“ I'm so very sorry for your loss. It is evident that she was a good and kind person, loved and appreciated by many. I recently lost someone close to me and can appreciate the heartache words cannot describe. With that in mind, I am moved to share with you a thought that helped me through the pain. That is the words of Jesus himself in the book of John, chapter 5 and verse 28, 29. He said 'Do not be amazed at this. For the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice, and come out.' I was so relieved to know the bible talks about an earthly resurrection; a time of peace when we will see our loved ones again in perfect conditions according to God's own will. I encourage you to hold on to that hope and learn more. It is my sincere wish that learning of this will give you the comfort it gave me.

“ Jessica inspired many students with her challenging dance classes and strong encouragement when she taught at The University of Tampa in 2005-06. The music for her piece in the 2006 Spring Dance Concert was "Dance Me to the End of Love," and it seems like she did dance with love throughout her life. We honor her memory and her wonderful contributions to the dance community, wherever she was.

“ To Jessica's family - I feel very blessed to have known Jessica. She was one of the first people I met when I first moved to New York City in 2009. Not only did we become friends and experienced many beautiful cultural moments together throughout the city, but moreover she taught me so much about how to impact young lives through the arts. The world is a better place for the work that Jessica championed, and she always brought such grit and passion to everything in her life. I know that Jessica is dancing her heart out and watching over us. My love and prayers to you during this time.

“ I am so sorry for your loss. Please know your family is in the hearts and prayers of so many Dublin alumni. I remember Jessica as a field director for marching band, and I was amazed that anyone my age would be able to stand in front of a group of students and have the confidence and skills to conduct. Sending prayers for peace as you grieve.
