“ I don't just have one I have millions she was my grandmother for 38 years but the one that comes to mind first is the first time she met my son. She was so excited told me how proud she was of him and me then handed fobbie 40 dollars told her to take us to build a bear and get that baby a teddy bear. Cameron was 4 months old when he got baby bear who to this day sits on his bed. This started a tredition for my little family all of my kids now have a build a bear from ohio. Gram I love u and miss u so much u taught me so much u r my rock and I proudly carry ur name

“ One of my best memories of Jo. The day I was looking at all the plaster of paris molds in her basement. I came across this weird looking tree with teeth. I asked her how much she wanted for it. She said why on earth would you want that ugly thing, and walked off. Little did I know a week later when I walked in the back door. There it sat on the kitchen table all painted and shinny, and told me I could have it.

To this day I have it proudly displayed atop a shelf in my man cave.

Jo, you will be deeply missed.
