

JoAnn Woltman

October 21, 1928 - July 1, 2018

JoAnn Louise Thomas Woltman, age 89, died Sunday July 1, 2018 in Delaware, Ohio. JoAnn was born October 21, 1928 in Columbus, Ohio to Henry and Pauline (Rohr) Thomas. She was raised in Clintonville, graduated in 1946 from North High School and then enrolled in The Ohio State University. While at Ohio State, JoAnn was an active member of the Aphi Phi Sorority and graduated in 1950 with a Bachelor's degree in Business Administration. Upon graduation, JoAnn joined her mother, Pauline, as a buyer for F&R Lazarus & Co. working out of the downtown Columbus headquarters. During her career as a Buyer and an Executive, she often traveled to New York City to source and plan fashion strategies for the Lazarus company. In 1957, she married Joseph Woltman and, soon after, began a transition to family life raising three sons (Alex, Mike and Chris). As a loving mother and spouse, JoAnn spent the next twenty years working as a homemaker prior to re-entering the workforce at The Ohio School for the Deaf. While there, JoAnn worked as a teacher's aide, learned sign language, and impacted the lives of many students during a decade of dedicated service. Upon retirement, JoAnn focused her energy on friends, family and traveling to visit with children, grandchildren, nieces and nephews, both her's and sister's in-laws, who lived throughout the country. JoAnn loved life and the role of being a supportive spouse, mother, grandmother, aunt, and friends with so many in Columbus and the surrounding communities. She and Joe were married for sixty years before his passing in April 2017. JoAnn continued to live life to the fullest with trips to California where she celebrated her 89th birthday with her sons and their families along with being very active socially at Willow-Brook Retirement community where she lived. “ I can't tell you how sorry I am for your loss. JoAnn was such a dear person. So friendly to everyone. I used to tease her about how long it took to walk through the dining room while she stopped at every table to greet all her friends along the way. She was so supportive after my husband died. Thanks, JoAnn, I was honored to be your friend!
