“ As a planning cesnismiomor and member of the biomass power plant subcommittee, I worked with Jere and I found him to be a gentleman and a community builder with a wide circle of friends and associates, a valuable voice of reason with a mildly self effacing sense of humor, who will be missed greatly. He often brought keen insights to a discussion, was a great meeting facilitator, and always added appropriate humor to any discussion. I'll definitely miss the man and his influence, R.I.P. Jere. To his family and friends I extend my Heartfelt condolences and hope that time, along with the love and support of your friends and the rest of our wonderful community will help to fill some of the void left by Jere's untimely passing.

Know that there are many prayers being said, both near and far, for all of you during this time of need. My most heartfelt condolences to the entire Mack family. With Love and God's Blessings, Chris “ Jack was my best friend during a critical period of my life. We were 6th grade classmates, and he and his big, chaotic, beautiful loving family took me in when my own father died in December of 1965. I didn't sleep there (very often), but I stopped at the Mack's in the morning on my way to school, and stopped with him there on my way home I think every day, until it was time to go find my own bed again at night. Jack was a big, popular, football kind of guy and I was a little bookie dude with glasses; he took me under his wing and held me fast until I could make it on my own. Jack taught me about cars, sports, and girls. When we were 14 he acquired a 56 Chevy from somewhere and we wrenched on it together for a year and a half. He would go on and on about the carburetors and shifters; lifters, cams and headers we were going to put on that car. It was always “We”. Jack and his family effortlessly and lovingly demonstrated great flaming generosity of spirit to a kid who needed it and didn't know it. They lived acceptance and love at their house; none of them more than he. He was and always will be a Great Man in my view. My condolences to all the Macks.
