“ My dearest Jordan, Like a son, I will hold you in my heart until the day I die. When I saw you last weekend, I told you how grown up you looked. I am so proud of the young man you had become. The joy you brought to your mom's life and that smile you gave her got her through anything her day had coming. Your dad will not know what to do without you in the woods. He'll get that turkey for you!! Your mom said you will be waiting for me & Mary when we die to chase us down for "the socks"....I look forward to the chase. I love you son. No camping trip or vacation will ever be the same. I take some comfort knowing how many lives you have touched. Rest in peace, enjoy eternity. We will take care of your mom. Love, Aunt Chris (Christine Zebarah)

“ Gwenn, Mike and Justin, We are crushed to hear of Jordan's death. You made the right decision having your family young and now you have had all these years with your dear Jordan before his early death. It is a blessing to have had so many fun-filled memories in the last 17 years. I remember you all as loving life and having fun. We will pray for your heart to heal and for you all to understand Jesus' love better during and after this time. We are thinking of both your families here in Bedford and we will pray for them also. Reach out! There are many people holding you up at this time. Lovingly, Jeff and LeeAnn Thomas and family (Van Wormer)

“ To the Entire Siefert Family, When I heard of this tragic accident, my heart went out to the family. It is heartbreaking to lose a child when they are so young and they have their whole life ahead of them. However, it was time for Sydney to be amongst the angels, and even though you may not understand remember that God has a greater purpose. Cherish all of your memories and keep them close to your hearts. To Aubrey, your sister will always be with you.

“ I don't know you personally Mr. Mrs. Siefert and siblings, but I very much know your pain. This pain tears at your very existence and seems to tear at the very core of your heart. You see, I have been where you are at this moment. I too have lost a child, although he was my first born grandchild he was my own. For those of us who remain there seems to be no end to the pain, it seems endless. Everywhere you look and everything you do will remind you of your child. Your memories will be sweet but also bitter at times. It has been 2 years and 7 months since I lost my dear Zachery. At only 15 years old he had so much to live for, but that is not always the case. I have but one piece of advice to give you, lean on Christ with all of your being, allow him to come into your heart and heal the piece that has been taken from you. He has been my only strength, my strong tower in the midst of this nightmare. He will bring you through this, but you must allow him to guide you through. “ Mike, Gwen and Justin: Our hearts and prayers go out to you in this time of such grief and sorrow. As parents, your pain is unspeakable and unimaginable to us. Know that you are surrounded by an incredible outpouring of love and support from us tgherest of your friends and work family. The truth of the matter is that the real grieving begins a few weeks from now after everyone has gone back to their own lives. Please know that you are not alone and that those of us who care for you will be here for you when you need us. I do not know how to help or what to do to ease your pain...I feel so very helpless. Please let me know if there is anything, no matter how small that we can do to help you. Our prayers for you, Debbie and Larry Goodwin

“ Hello my name is Clarissa Kintner I didn't know your son Jordan, but i go to Olentangy High School and we all heard about your loss. I just lost my father so I know all the pain and thoughts that are going on in your head right now. My advice is to just take it one day at a time and remember all the good things Jordan did in his life time and all the things that he did to make you smile. I am very sorry for your loss. Your family is in my thoughts and prayers. God Bless.
