“ I met Kim during her orientation at law school. I'm pretty sure I was the first person who spoke to her. We built an amazing friendship and she was a very special part of my law school experience. I remember her helping out with a number of SBA projects, and was always willing to contribute and encourage others to contribute to whatever was needed. I remember her bringing Pete to come see me at the Hey-Hey. I can't ever remember her saying a bad word or complaining about anyone or anything. Even though I haven't seen or spoken to her in many years, I know I'm going to miss her.

“ My memories of smart, funny, sweet, beautiful Kim - laughing in the law library, studying for exams, cheering on the Buckeyes at OSU football games, watching her gently turn down her many suitors (except for Pete of course, finally), and enduring the sheer drudgery of law school together. Kim made it all look easy, with her ever present smile and charm. Of course it was easy for her as she is one of the smartest women I know. She grasped concepts easily, and had a quick wit to match. She was always willing to help others, in class and in life. I will never forget her smile, grace, beauty, charm, genuineness, and her ability to put anyone at ease and draw them into her circle. The world is truly a better place because of her. My heartfelt condolences to Pete, Max, Nick, the McGloshen and Lipovsek families, and all of us who knew Kim.

My deepest sympathies to you Tom and Joan and your extended families on the passing of your daughter, Kim. I recall the early years when I worked with you Joan when Kim was a young student in the Dublin School System. She certainly made quite an impression at the time and I knew she would have a bright and successful future ahead of her. Cherish the memories. Sending prayers for peace.
