“ Mr Evans was my 8th grade algebra teacher. I learned proportions from him. A logical and easy way that I still use almost daily. Before calculators I was always able to quickly and accurately calculate meds and recipes and many other things that my friends and colleagues had so much difficulty with. Always thought I should call and tell him thanks. Sorry I did not. My condolences. Lynn V Horner

“ I loved how very practical and yet loving Lloyd was with any situation being discussed. How fervently he loved his children and grandchildren; also very evident in any conversation I ever witnessed. What a great sense of humor he had. Heaven is so lucky to have him now. Sending love and hugs. Susan (dear friend of Nancy)
