“ I met Lynette during my early days in Cincinnati- probably 1976. We had several great adventures together. I remember making a baby set for her first child. We lost track of each other but as soon as I saw her photo in the obituary section, I knew right away it was Lynette...and seeing her smile made me smile too. I still have the ceramic angels her mom made for me. I'm happy she died peacefully with her family. My sympathies for your loss.

“ I was a student of Dr. Unger at Miami, and worked with her in the Laws Hall and Associates advertising program. She will remain my all-time favorite professor - undergrad and graduate school. She was good to me as she was with all her students. I will always remember her never-ending happiness and enthusiasm, and all the lessons I learned from her.

“ Lynette, Michael, Brad, Kathryn and I went to hear James Taylor and Jackson Browne several summers ago at Bkossom. She knew every word of every song! I've been told how important music was to her even during the last days to her long rest.
