This is my last memory of Aunt Mady with my mom, Sophie, and Aunt Sylvia....Barefoot Days

“ I have a lot of memories of Aunt Mady. As the oldest grandchild in the Shaia family, I was in a unique place early in my life. When I was an infant, my dad had a stroke, and my mom was gone a lot. As a consequence, mom's sisters, including Aunt Mady, were tasked with spoiling me. I was their real life baby doll. I can't say for sure, but I have to believe Aunt Mady and Uncle Bill also had something to do with imprinting the Buckeyes on my life. Ledo's after home games found them there and that's where I learned to love Rolling Rock. When i was at OSU, Uncle Bill hired me as a part time piano mover. Sometimes, at the end of the day, Aunt Mady would ask me to have dinner with them. The only meal I remember is her pasta, because I loved her pasta sauce. I reminded her, even in her older years, how much I loved that sauce. The last time I saw her is about as good a memory as I could hope for. It was a couple of years ago, right before she went out to Arizona for awhile. My wife, Barb, and I, went to visit her along with my mom and Aunt Sylvia. They sang childhood songs, and despite Aunt Mady's Alzheimer's issues, she knew the words to every song.
