“ The first time I had dinner at Karen's house we were in high school. Her mom made a salad that included dandelion greens and wild violet leaves. To date, my exploration of the vegetable world consisted mostly of green beans and corn. But I was determined to do my best. So I ate the salad and remarked on how good it was. I don't think I fooled her at all.

Hi this is mark. I always enjoy mowing her lawn. We had many wonderful chats afterwards. My girlfriend visited her also. She is from West Virginia. So they both shared a lot about the hill country. I loved hearing her talks of the old days&looking at the momentos in her house. Plus she always had food&drink for me. And to think all the lovely trees were planted by her. And if anybody ever gave her cake. I always got some.

Olive lived behind us back when we lived in Kempton Run. I loved talking to her--she knew so much about nature, especially trees. Bob, my husband cut her grass for awhile before we moved out of state in 2016. I visited her twice and we exchanged some Christmas letters. She talked so much about that great grand son last time I was there! She loved our dog, Dixie, too and always gave her treats. Sorry I am so late at seeing this. Miss her dearly. RIP Olive. *We Just found out about Olive.
We also were neighbors of hers. We loved chatting with her and were in awe of her love and care she and her late husband took of their beautiful garden. Anytime we helped her with something in her yard she would always leave us tomatoes on our deck the next day. So sorry for your loss. God Bless Her.
