“ A tribute to Paul... We had lots of good times with Paul and I am inspired to be a friend to others as he was to us. Paul accepted us just as we are, he was kind, he cared, and it was easy to be with him. Paul had such a great easy attitude with a dry humor, he was fun, and was such a fantastic cook. When my husband and I were on vacation one year in Ohio there was a baby skunk stuck in the basement apartment window of the house where we were staying with friends. We all pondered a multitude of solutions, and some of Paul's ideas were hilarious. He figured it out and helped the baby skunk have a safe smell-less escape. Paul made a difference in many ways. I'm so glad I knew him. He loved it when his grandchildren came to visit and I was lucky to meet them one summer. My heart goes out to his family and friends.
