“ Paulette and I worshipped together at the noon Mass on Sunday at the Newman Center. Her presence, her smile, her laugh, her sense of humor made for a great package. As a lector, her voice resonated ceiling to floor. She was always prepared and through her intonations and delivery patterns, she was able to bring meaning to the word of God. She made a difference and I will always remember her. May she rest in peace.

“ Paulette was a wonderful friend with whom I shared many conversations over food at restaurants and over the phone. We worshipped together at the St. Thomas More Newman Center, where I enjoyed hearing her rich voice delivering scripture readings during the liturgy of the Word at Sunday mass. Paulette loved to go on retreats to the Gethsemani monastery and St. Meinrad archabbey with friends from the Thomas Merton group that met at Newman. She was a very spiritual person who was always wanting to learn more about God and life in general. I will miss you, Paulette, and may you find peace and joy forever in God's loving presence.

“ Paulette was a fellow member of the Newman Center Church in Columbus, Ohio. She was always seeking God, asking questions, and raised questions in others. A wonderful sense of humor, and her wonderful laugh was infectious. Paula, may Jesus have you in his arms. Amen.
