“ Phil was a good friend and colleague of mine. He was always very lively and jovial. Spent a lot of good times with him. Even travelled to Chicago a couple of times with him. He was joking all the time about coming to India with me when I was leaving Ross. I had the good fortune of meeting him during my visit to US after I returned back to India. I am blessed to have been acquainted with him. May his soul rest in peace.

“ Suzanne and children.....please accept my sympathy with the loss of your husband & father. It was my good fortune to work with Phil at Ross Labs. As many have already expressed, Phil was a "joy".....he was kind-hearted, always had a smile on his face, and his laugh was "infectious". For those of us at Ross, we had the great pleasure and best memories of Phil when he would sing Happy Birthday to one of us in his "Gomer Pyle" style.....he was a "Hoot". Then, there were those performances of "Karnak the Magnificent" at various company and department functions when he would appear in his cape and turbin and have us all in stitches. He was a true friend to many, but his greatest love was for his family. We are all blessed to have known Phil and I, for one, know that he is now in Heaven.....an angel and new member of God's choir. RIP, Phil.

“ Life's little moments gave Phil such pleasure. He would get a gleam in his eye whenever he mentioned going to see a movie with Desmond, waiting for Hannah to come home, talking about Marie's dancing, decorating for Halloween with Suzanne, or waiting for his beloved Giordano's to open on Polaris. I've never met any of you but listening to him talk these last few years, I knew what he loved.

“ I only met Phil once at Suzanne's class reunion. He seemed to be a very caring man. My heart goes out to all who were touched by Phil's life. My thoughts and prayers are with you at this most difficult time.

“ Even though my opportunities to talk with Phil were infrequent, it never failed me knowing where his heart was, his family. I always walked away after our conversations and felt blessed to have talked with him, always a smile and a chuckle of good humor. Although the Lord has taken him home, he has left many blessings with each of those he has touched with his positive attitude and genuine spirit. My thoughts and prayers are with his family.

“ I've worked closely with Phil over the past two years, and found out very quickly the joy he was. Anyone who spoke with him knew that he was honest, caring, a great friend, and that he loved the Dallas Cowboys. He and I always talked about the games being kindred fans. He had the ability to tell a story like you were there, a smile that could warm your heart, and an unforgettable laugh. He was dedicated to his work, but I knew that home is where his true love was. We would talk about hours spent at dance recitals, eating out at his favorite restaurants or just spending time with family and friends. He has made me better to have known him and for that I am thankful. Many prayers to his family and rest in peace, dear friend.

“ My favorite memory of Phil, oh there are so many. But my favorite is in the cafeteria he was complaining about his ice machine broke in his refrigerator. He went to get ice and the ice kept coming out and it wouldn't stop, I had to help him. I turned to him and said you can't get ice at home but it's raining ice here at work. He had the biggest heart and the laughter that could make a whole room laugh. We shared stories every morning, we talked about the kids. His family was his world. He shared so many stories. I will pray for him and his family. Please know he has touched so many people with his kindness and laughter. RIP Phil, I believe you took a piece of a lot of hearts when you left this world too soon. His work family misses him deeply.

“ I remember growing up with Phil "Chippy"...he was always on me about keeping my side of the room straight. If I didn't make my bed he argue with me. One time I told him that it didn't make sense to make a bed when you are getting back into to it later...in the wisdom of Chippy he said, "Well, if you didn't finish anything today at least that was done!" Never argued about the bed again. Dear brother it's that kind of wisdom I'll miss. God bless the family.
