“ Dear Mark, Mark Jr., Erin and Evie, I have struggled to find the words to tell You how deeply saddened I am at Pinky's passing. These words are truly inadequate to the emotions of my heart. Plnky had such a wonderful sense of humor, eclipsed only by her smile. It seemed that her smile was a mere reflection of her shining love for You. Her love for all of You was truly never ending. She loved each and every one of You with her whole being. That love will live on inside each of You, forever. I cannot begin to understand why this terrible loss has happened, however, I know that she will be there, on the other side of this divide, waiting to embrace each of You in her loving arms. Until then, my heartfelt prayer is that God will envelop You in the depths of his peace and never ending love. Michael, myself, Lauren, Emma and Jonathan love You all so very, very much.

“ Mark, Those of us at HNA in Torrance were saddened to hear of your news this morning... No words are adequate for the shock and pain you and your children must be going through, but please know you and your family are in my thoughts and prayers. Blessings, Sue
A Parable of Immortality I am standing by the seashore. A ship at my side spreads her white sails to the morning breeze and starts for the blue ocean. She is an object of beauty and strength, and I stand and watch until at last she hangs like a speck of white cloud just where the sun and sky come down to mingle with each other. Then someone at my side says, 'There she goes! Gone where? Gone from my sight - that is all. She is just as large in mast and hull and spar as she was when she left my side and just as able to bear her load of living freight to the places of destination. Her diminished size is in me, not in her. And just at the moment when someone at my side says, 'There she goes! ', there are other eyes watching her coming, and other voices ready to take up the glad shout : 'Here she comes!' by Henry Van Dyke

“ I'm so terribly sorry for your loss, Mark. My words are painfully inadequate to the overwhelming burden of my heart. I'm sincerely grateful to have lived during Pinky's lifetime, and will forever thank God for the blessing she has been to you and our family. We are all citizens of Heaven, and by faith, I believe that we will all be reunited again someday where there are no tears, fears, and sickness. I will continue to pray for you all, and never cease to love you. Michael
