

Prabhat Kumar

November 21, 1998 - June 1, 2026

Prabhat Kumar, born November 21, 1998, in Rockford, Illinois, passed away on June 1, 2026.

He is survived by his parents, Pawan and Bhavna Kumar, and his two sisters, Sonali and Mira Kumar.

Prabhat attended Olentangy Orange High school, graduating in 2016, before pursuing his passion for engineering at The Ohio State University, where he earned a Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering in 2021. He later completed a Master of Science in Electrical Engineering from the University of Michigan while working in the automotive industry in Detroit with Stellantis (formerly Chrysler).

Prabhat had a lifelong fascination with anything powered by an engine and set on wheels, especially cars and trains. No matter where he was headed, if he heard or spotted a train approaching, he would stop—or even turn around—just to watch it pass and hear it. His curiosity about how things worked was matched only by his appreciation for creativity and beauty. He loved movies, music, and photography, and found joy in sharing those interests with the people around him.

Music was a constant part of Prabhat's life. A dedicated violist since childhood, he performed with numerous ensembles throughout the years, including the Youth Philharmonic of Central Ohio, the Buckeye Philharmonic Orchestra, and the Detroit Community Orchestra.

Above all else, Prabhat was a devoted son, brother, and friend. He possessed a quiet generosity and consistently placed the needs of others before his own. To his family, but especially his sisters, he was a source of unwavering support, guidance, and love. His kindness, humor, intelligence, and selflessness will be remembered by all who knew him.

Family and friends are invited to celebrate Prabhat's life on Saturday, June 6, 2026, at Rutherford Funeral Home at Powell in Powell, Ohio. Visitation will begin at 11:00 a.m., followed by a Pooja service at 1:00 p.m. A gathering for family and friends will follow (details)

Prabhat's memory will live on in the hearts of those who loved him, and he will be deeply missed every day.

“ I had the honor and privilege of working with Prabhat at Stellantis. His smile could light up any room, and no matter the challenge before him, he approached it with enthusiasm, determination, and grace. He was the kind of person who embraced every opportunity and inspired those around him through both his actions and his character.

Prabhat was truly one of the kindest and most genuine individuals I have ever had the pleasure of knowing. In speaking with others who knew him, the same words were always repeated—kind and genuine. Those qualities were not simply part of who he was; they defined him.

His presence left a lasting impact on so many lives, and his absence will be deeply felt. He will be truly missed. My thoughts and prayers are with Prabhat's family and loved ones during this difficult time.

I pray that God, in His infinite mercy, grants his family strength, comfort, and peace in the days ahead. May they find solace in the countless lives Prabhat touched, and may his memory continue to be a source of inspiration and blessing to all who knew him.

“ I met Prabhat during our Assembly plant rotation in the CIE program. We were counterparts who met late in our 6 month rotation - He was at Jefferson and I was at Mack. But we immediately clicked and I liked working with him so much, I followed him back to the same group in corporate

We were able to travel up to the upper peninsula for work and bonded a lot seeing the sights and nature. That's where this picture was taken, over lake superior with Prabhat smiling

He was one of the most kind hearted individuals I have met, always striving for the best from himself and others. Always willing to offer help to those who needed.

Prabhat's positive energy, curiosity, and empathy will be dearly missed.

“ The first time I heard Prabhat's name was when I found out that he'd designed the logo for that new school I was about to attend, Olentangy Berkshire. Then I met him and found someone as kind and clever as he was creative.

I am proud to have had him as one of my best friends from then through high school. We spent years together on homework and clubs, bike rides and games, and so much more. I enjoyed all of our time together and loved his teasing humor and his drive to learn more and do better.

To Prabhat, be at peace, wherever you are. I'm sorry I didn't know how easily life can pull people apart.

“ I had the great pleasure of having Prabhat as one of my closest friends throughout middle and high school. I will always cherish the long bike rides we used to go on in the summer. Even though the rides could go for more than five hours, they were never boring with his lively personality and witty humor. I can still feel the passion and drive he brought to everything he did.

Rest in peace, Prabhat. My heart and deepest condolences go out to your family and loved ones.

“ I had the privilege of knowing Prabhat both as a classmate and a colleague. We were part of the same CIE program at Stellantis and shared many classes while working toward our master’s degrees. Whether we were at work or in school, I always enjoyed spending time with him.

After I left Stellantis, what had started as a friendly professional relationship grew into a genuine friendship. One of my favorite memories is when Prabhat came to visit us in Seattle. I was so honored that he chose to spend an entire Saturday of his trip with us. We laughed, shared stories, and created memories that I will always cherish.

Prabhat was truly one of the kindest, most genuine people I have ever known. His positivity was radiating, and spoke kindly of everyone. He was simply the best of us, and his loss will be deeply felt by all of his friends and colleagues at Stellantis. I will always be grateful for the time and friendship we shared.

“ I was lucky enough to work with Prabhat at Stellantis and together on the Ohio State Intern recruiting team. He went out of his way to make me feel welcomed and part of the Stellantis/Michigan community when I started with the company, as he had with all of those he knew. His positivity and kindness was infectious for all he crossed paths with, and he took any opportunity he could to pay it forward and spread joy. Driven by his passion, his work ethic and dedication was unmatched. Prabhat will be dearly missed.

“ I met Prabhat for the first time on June 13, 2025, when my best friend, Jamie, finally introduced me to her elusive new boyfriend.

By then, we had already spent the previous month watching their love story unfold—from a chance meeting in Seattle to their first trip together to the Indy 500 in Chicago just a week and a half later. I remember Jamie calling me and asking, “Am I crazy for jumping on a plane to Chicago to spend a week with a man I met last week?” My response was something along the lines of, “Yes, but you’re definitely going.”

As any protective best friend would be, my top priority was making sure she was safe. In response to my concern, Prabhat sent me his résumé so I could see that he was a responsible, trustworthy person worthy of our confidence. It made me laugh at the time, but looking back, that simple gesture spoke volumes about who he was. His willingness to openly share details about his life gave me an immediate sense of comfort and confidence in both him and his intentions.

A month later, we finally met in person at a Mariners game in Seattle. The warm smile and bear hug he greeted me with immediately confirmed what I had already begun to suspect: Jamie had found a good one.

Over the past year, I have felt incredibly blessed to witness their love story. I had the privilege of celebrating their happiest moments alongside them and holding space during the harder days, especially when the challenges of long distance began to weigh heavily. Through it all, their love for one another was undeniable.

One of my favorite memories will always be spending New Year’s Eve with Jamie and Prabhat, watching them share what we all believed would be the first of many New Year’s kisses as the clock struck midnight. It was impossible not to see how happy they made each other and how much joy they brought into one another’s lives.

Prabhat's kindness, warmth, and genuine love for Jamie left a lasting impression on everyone fortunate enough to know him. I will always be grateful that our paths crossed and that I was able to witness the beautiful love they shared.

You will be deeply missed.

“ I first met Prabhat in the 7th grade, when we were on a Robotics team together. From the beginning, I saw his knack and passion for engineering. He was always talking about cars and racing, so it came as no surprise when he went on to achieve his dream of becoming an automotive engineer.

Throughout high school, Prabhat was a constant presence in my life. From Quiz Bowl to Model UN and so many activities in between, we built a strong friendship through our shared experiences. Through it all, he continually impressed me with his intelligence, but what stood out even more was his sense of humor and his ability to put people at ease. I will always remember his willingness to lend a helping hand and be there when someone needed him most.

Although our lives drifted in different directions after college, I always enjoyed following Prabhat's latest adventures and travels. It was also wonderful to see him stay connected to music, a passion he carried from our school days as an accomplished violinist.

Thank you for being such a positive force in my life and in the lives of so many others. Rest easy Prabhat, you will be deeply missed.

We have sweet memories spending time with Prabhat when he was just seven, 2nd grade. We were immediate neighbors at Ann Arbor, Michigan. Remember playing cricket in the parking lot! Prabhat at times would sneak in to our home upstairs until his parent or grandpa would come looking for him!! He will always be in our thoughts with his smily face!! Never understood why destiny or fate whatever you call is so harsh..to snatch someone so young and dynamic...Prabhat rest in Peace. Om Shanthi “Prabhat was one of my best friends through all of middle school and high school. He was a very bright, passionate person who was always accepting and welcoming of others. He was incredibly kind and selfless, willing to go the extra mile to help and support others, even at great cost to himself. On top of all of this, he possessed a certain goofy sense of humor that had a way of putting all those around him at ease.

As our college paths diverged, I admittedly did a poor job of maintaining the great friendships I had built up over the years. Nevertheless, Prabhat was always ready to go on another adventure when I came home, with a big hug and a big smile--always ready to pick up where we left off. Once you were friends with Prabhat, you were a friend for life.

Although he may be gone, a part of him will live on in all of us that have felt his positive impact. I am truly fortunate to have called him my friend.

“Prabhat was a kind and genuine guy. He was also a smart and capable engineer. I had a great time working with him on Vans and on the SRT Truck projects. I am very saddened that I can't bump into him in the hall or the parking lot to hear all of the cool things that he does outside of work. From his new house to the orchestra his love of racing and cars. He was excited to do it all. He approached problems with patience and courage and was always willing to listen to all input in meetings. Stellantis was blessed to have him at the headquarters, at the plants and involved in any project. I am really going to miss this guy. - Dan Stagner

“The first thought that comes to mind when I think of Prabhat is his vibrant smile. He was such a joyful person and his presence was uplifting to whatever room he was in. “Prabhat, or PK as I liked to call him, was someone I was lucky to meet through Jamie, my best friend and Prabhat’s partner. The first time I met him, I knew Jamie had found a great one. He was sincere, smart, and fun. Their relationship was long distance, but they saw each other as often as possible and I so admired how Prabhat planned such amazing trips and outings for them. Anyone who saw Prabhat and Jamie together saw two people very much in love.

I will never forget when Jamie’s car broke down and PK called me and asked me to go help her, saying “I will pay you handsomely.” It was so funny and cute. He made me laugh a lot, and was truly one of the most thoughtful people I have ever met. I am heartbroken for my best friend, who I know he loved immensely and planned to spend his life with. I am going to really miss him. All of my love to PK’s family and friends.

“ I had the privilege of meeting Prabhat about a year ago, and from the very beginning, his knowledge and willingness to help stood out. As we were launching a new operation, there was no shortage of challenges, and it was clear we could use all the support we could get. Without hesitation, Prabhat stepped in, rolled up his sleeves, and got to work alongside us.

What made Prabhat truly special was not just his expertise, but his kindness. He approached every situation with a generous spirit and a genuine desire to support others. Even under the intense pressure of launching new products, he remained positive and calm, always greeting everyone with a warm smile and an eagerness to help however he could.

Prabhat made a lasting impact in a short time. His dedication, compassion, and uplifting presence will not be forgotten. He will be deeply missed by all who had the honor of working with him. My sincere condolences to the Kumar family.

“ I had the privilege of working alongside Prabhat during one of his rotations, and the experience left a lasting impression on me. What stood out most was his passion — he approached every task with genuine curiosity and commitment, never just going through the motions. He was driven in the best possible way, always pushing to do better while lifting those around him. But beyond his work ethic, Prabhat was simply a joy to be around. His energy was infectious, and he made even the hardest days feel lighter. I am deeply grateful to have known him, and he will not be forgotten. “ Prabhat has left a void that I do not think I will ever be able to fill.

Being his Mama (Maternal Uncle), I was in a privileged position to be called on for various rituals at significant milestones early in his life. All through, including till yesterday, someone told me that Prabhat and I looked very similar. People often interchanged our names while talking about us / calling us too.

We shared a common passion for automobiles and trains. It was just a few days back I was seeing the picture and admiring his blue dodge, which he loved so much!

We shared some memorable moments together - from warmly cuddling while sleeping together when he was a little kid to being called “Motu Mama” to the Buckeyes game at the Horse Shoe stadium to disappearing for coffee on a freezing Chicago morning during our last trip...The memories are just endless...I proudly displayed his accomplishments at my work desk and some of my friends still call me by the name he called me by (Motu Mama) because I so fondly shared my experiences with him.

His warmth towards everyone, unconditional love from the bottom of his heart and bear hugs showed how kind hearted and a pure soul he was. Pure, unconditional love and unlimited kindness is what he spread across everyone’s life he touched.

Prabhat...you will be truly missed forever buddy...there was just so much we could have done together...it will be an honour to always be called “Prabhat’s Mama”!

“ I was one of Prabhat's roommates at Ohio State. Prabhat was truly one of the kindest, most genuine people I know. He put his whole heart into everything he did, especially into his relationships with his friends.

My favorite memory of Prabhat is from November 2022. He was already in Detroit at FCA at this time, and I had a flight back from Europe that had a 5 hour layover in the DTW airport. I messaged Prabhat to see if he was free and if he wanted to meet up and grab something to eat. I didn't realize that:

- 1) his place was further from the airport than I thought (like 45 minutes?) and
- 2) that my flight got in at like 5:30 AM.

When I realized, I tried to tell him it was too early, I'll catch him next time in Columbus, but he insisted. He picked me up from the airport, we went to some 24-hour diner nearby, and had a wonderful time catching up. All of that to hang out with me for a few hours before going to work.

We're all really going to miss you, Prabhat. May you rest in peace.

“ Dear Prabhat,
you've touched so many lives with your love, warmth, and kindness.

He was a brilliant child with a caring heart, beautiful smile, and a very special way of making everyone feel loved. He was always respectful to his elders and had an incredibly sweet and endearing way of talking to people that instantly won hearts.

He always loved visiting India and cherished every moment spent with us.

Whenever he came, he would greet everyone with big warm hugs and fill our homes with joy and laughter. His adorable attempts to speak small Hindi phrases always melted our hearts and brought smiles to our faces. Despite living in America, he remained deeply connected to his roots and loved being surrounded by his family. We were eagerly waiting for his next trip to India and looking forward to creating more precious memories together. He was very fond of Indian food, which he always enjoyed during his visits.

His love, laughter, warmth, and the beautiful memories he gave us will remain in our hearts forever. He will always be remembered with immense love, affection, and gratitude for the happiness he brought into our lives.” 🕊️💙

“ I have known Prabhat since 6th grade, and from that point on we became the closest of friends. From sleepovers in his basement, to weekend movie double headers, to adventures around the world, we always enjoyed spending time together and just vibing. Some of my favorite memories were the trips we took together over the years, like going to Indianapolis for the Indy 500, exploring Seattle and the Olympics, or traveling through Scandinavia. No matter where we went, Prabhat loved being behind the wheel. He genuinely enjoyed driving us on our trips, and though he was a bit heavy-footed on the accelerator at times, he still managed to make the drive an easy time to take a nap.

Prabhat had a way of making everyone feel welcome. He was kind, friendly, and generous with both his time and his heart. I'll always remember his warm hugs, his sense of humor, and the easygoing presence he brought to every gathering. Through so many stages of life, he was a constant friend, and I feel incredibly fortunate to have shared so many memories with him.

I will miss him deeply, but I will always be grateful for the friendship, laughter, and adventures we shared. The memories of those trips, those movie nights, and simply spending time together will stay with me forever. Rest in peace, P Rabbit. You will never be forgotten.

“ Prabhat is one of my oldest friends. We met in the orchestra at Berkshire Middle School. At first, he was definitely hesitant to talk to me-- as I was much more loud and obnoxious than he ever was-- but, slowly he came out of his shell and became the bubbly and joyful man we all know. His passion and excitement for his work, cars, trains and basically anything with an engine was truly unmatched. He constantly spoke about his sisters Sonali and Mira and reminded me how proud of them he was.

I was not lucky enough to see Prabhat recently, but we often kept in touch about our travels and big life events via photos. I have attached some of my favorite recent photos from him.

Prabhat was nearly 5 years old at the time & all of us in our family thought he was such an adorable kid. He would greet each one of us with a bright smile & most lovable hug.

I fondly remember the few occasions when I used to babysit him, he had the most outgoing & sweet nature.

My last memory of Prabhat is when he & his family visited us in December 2023. It was so wonderful to meet him as a young adult who had already accomplished several impressive milestones!

“ One of my favorite memories of Prabhat is the last one I got to share with him. Entering a silly Beyblade tournament with over 32 people, and going on to win the whole thing, his attitude and his excitement was so pure-hearted and genuine in that moment, and everyone in that house was chanting his name as he went on to claim victory.

Many people grow apart or move on or a bunch of other things happen, and I didn't get to see him so often, but I'm so thankful that we got to stay in touch, and pick up where we left off, even if it was only once or twice a year.

“ My life is a more beautiful place because of you. I hear your laugh in the roar of car engines and in the whistles from trains. I taste your kindness in every sweet bite of a cupcake, especially if it's eaten in the back of someone's car in a parking lot. Summer breezes envelop me with the same warmth as your hugs and I marvel at how sunlight filters through the leaves of trees in the exact ways your smile lights up your face. “ My heartfelt condolences to Bhavana and the family. I have always known Prabhat as a loving and devoted elder brother to the girls and a role model for everyone in our family. He touched many lives with his warmth, kindness, and generosity and will be deeply missed. No matter where he is, I am sure he will continue to watch over and take care of his sisters, just as he always has. Our thoughts and prayers are with you all during this difficult time.

“ My sincere condolences to Prabhat's family, friends, and loved ones. Simply put, Prabhat was a gentle soul that could find the light in any situation. Although I only had the opportunity to interact with him for the last year or so at work, I can tell you he's left a fingerprint much greater than that; and for that I am grateful. I will miss our interactions, his "hello friends" entrance into meetings, and optimistic approach; his spirit will live on with those he touched.

“ My heart goes out to all of Prabhat's family and friends. Ive been so privileged to call Prabhat a friend for the last 5 years or so, lucky to meet him through work. In addition to being one of the hardest working individuals I know, he was also one of the kindest most genuine humans I've met and was always willing to go through extra mile for his friends and family. I will always remember his smile and shining positivity whenever he entered a room, even after long days at the career fairs or networking events he lead. Love you Bhat, you will be missed.

“ My heart goes out to Prabhat's family during this time. I am deeply sorry for your loss. Prabhat was always a beacon of light even during challenging times at work. I always admired that about him. I worked with Prabhat on the Wagoneer S launch 2 years ago and most recently was happy that he was putting his skills to good use at SHAP. Stellantis lost a good one, that is with great certainty. We will all miss his positivity around the office.

“ I am devastated to hear of Prabhat's passing. I always loved to chat with him whenever we crossed paths, and each time he so kindly always explained everything I could have wanted to know (usually about cars and trains!). I so deeply treasure being able to stay with him in Detroit during April of 2026; we had such an incredible time, all thanks to Prabhat and his limitless kindness and generosity. I am truly grateful that we had an opportunity to meet, and thankful that I got to learn from him about so many things that he loved. He will be truly missed, as he was dearly loved. My sincerest condolences to his family—I am keeping you in my thoughts.
