Lindy was my roommate twice at Luther, and once in Iowa City. What a fun-loving guy. Some of these photos show Randy canoeing on his beloved Upper Iowa River.

“ I know Randy from the years our kids were playing baseball. Such great players, teams, and times. Randy was at All the games, supporting his kids & all the players. Such a fun guy, talkative, laughing, & upbeat. He loved his family and generated kindness to everyone around him. Took great care of his puppy dogs. Said that much of his day could be spent to let the dogs out, and let the dogs in. Always a sense of humor to make you laugh. He also had a strong lawyer professional side and good advice. His balance of family, sports, work, fun, good times, stories, laughter is so missed already. He raised two fantastic boys who gave him great joy watching them play baseball growing up. Such a good father & friend to all.

“ I knew Randy and his sister Beth in high school. We played baseball together and many classes. What I remember most about him was that he was always laughing and having fun. I hope he spent these last 50 years doing the same thing.

My condolences to the family.

Ken and John, so sorry for your loss. We will all miss your Dad.

Randy moved from New Jersey to Cedar Rapids in 1969, before our junior year in high school. Who was this new guy with the foreign Jersey accent? Of course, his nickname became "Jersey", and he fit in fast with all of us.

We played sports together, and used to joke that since we each grew up with three sisters and no brothers, we were the long-lost brother neither of us had.

We stayed connected after high school and college, and through yearly visits, our kids essentially grew up together. Randy and I traveled to every Big Ten football stadium to watch our beloved Iowa Hawkeyes, and had tremendous fun all along the way. I firmly believe we had perhaps the best Hawkeye and Packer tailgates in the history of tailgating.

If you wanted to have fun and laugh all night long, Randy was your guy.

I enjoyed it all. Rest in peace, brother.
