“ Our deep condolences on the passing of your Father and Grandpa. The Luces were our neighbors on Milton Ave. back in the early '70s. I remember Mr. Luce getting irritated at Maggie and Evie for barking at him like he was an intruder! My mother's name was Betty, too, so I heard lots of "Hi Betty", and then a return "Hi Betty" when they would be out working in the yard, hanging out the clothes, etc ' and then they would proceed to talk for at least a half hour or more. My Dad and Mr. Luce both smoked pipes so there would be lots of pipe smoke in the evening air. It smelled great!, and always brings back a flood of memories. Mr Luce was a quiet, classy, intelligent guy, and we really missed them both when we moved. Our parents, and now Dick and Betty; are all gone, but what memories they left us with.....

*With the greatest sympathies,
James and Suzanne Slyh*

“ Grandpa was always a gracious, gentle man. I can still see him sitting in his chair, smoking his pipe and Grandma right by his side. Maggie and Eva close by. I was always so interestes in his woodshop. He liked to Tinker didnt he?! And ohhh, when he retarred the driveway!

Im so thankful for the father he was to my Dad. 💜 Love is love. Family is family. Im thankful for the memories, the calls to hear his voice even though we had moved so far away. Though distance pravailed and years have passed they are Forever etched in my heart. I trust he is swirling with joy to be united with his blessed love now. May they both rest in peace. What a beautiful long life they enjoyed.

Much love, Teresa Lewis.
