“ As a mother to me you flat out sucked.. you were self centered, greedy, drunk, paranoid, condescending, dishonest, and just plain nasty.. I have no pleasant memories of you from the past 60 years.. I did forgive what you did to me, and I'm glad I never gave you a second chance to hurt me..

“ Thanks Shirley for being such a kind friend on Facebook these past few years. I know you enjoyed reading my novel "Meus Insomnium." Right after you read it you said...

"I just finished your book. It's great! I'm a reader and this book was well written, held my interest, and informative too. Thank you so much for writing it and I am waiting anxiously for your next one!"

(your comment now appears in the "reviews" section of my book, and always will.)

Well, I'm sorry that I didn't get the sequel finished for you in time. And I know that even though our loss is Heaven's gain, it's still tough losing someone you love and respect. God bless you Shirley in your eternal home where all things are made new. Looking forward to chatting with you in person someday in the land of Forever and Ever.

Save us all seats at the Great Banquet!

“ Shirley and Jr were my second mom and dad! Rick and I will forever be heart broken over this loss!! After Shirley moved to Arizona we helped a cousin move the Arizona so after we got there I called Shirley to get her address and told her it was to send a card to her! But in reality we were going to surprise her and show up on her door step! Well let me tell you the look we got after we rang the door bell was priceless!! We not only did this one time we did it to her two times!! The second time I called to get her address she questioned if we were going to be ringing her door bell again! Of course I told her no!! Guess what I lied and the look and scolding I got was priceless again!! Rest in peace Shirley you will always be in our hearts!! Sending our deepest sympathy to the family!! May enjoy this story am let it put a smile on your faces!!
