

Stanley A. Smith

April 19, 2013

Mr. Easygoing – Stanley A. Smith, 59, of Worthington, OH, formerly of Pittsburgh, PA passed away peacefully on Friday, April 19th. He was in his favorite place in the world, home. A self proclaimed easygoing guy, he will be remembered lovingly by his wife of 35 years Honey (Helen), three children: Drew (wife Laurence), Brian, and Emily, and sister Christine (husband Howard) Franklin. He was the son of the late Stanley A. and Emily Ann Bazylak Smith. He was a graduate of Carnegie-Mellon University and Xavier University with a BS and MBA, respectively. Those closest to him will remember an incredibly honest, intelligent, amicable, and hardworking family man with his own brand of humor. His passions included Sunday paper crossword puzzles, solitaire, FoxNews, fishkeeping and the aluminum industry, but family always came first. He was deservedly proud of producing two patents and his written contributions to Industry and Trade Publications. An avid Steelers fan, he instilled the passion for the black and gold in his family and anyone with the opportunity to stop by for a game. For those who wish, the family suggests memorial contributions be made to the American Heart Association – www.heart.org or the Wounded Warrior Project – www.woundedwarriorproject.org

“ Dear Honey, Brian, and Emily, Our heartfelt sympathy for the loss of Stan at this stage of life. Though losing someone so loved is never easy, it is particularly sad at this time of your lives. Happy memories will return as you learn to adjust to life without Stan; unfortunately, that takes time. But, I believe he will always be just a prayer and whisper away. A warm hug is coming your way from me. With great fondness for all of you, Fran and Mike Middaugh
