“ Aunt Verna was more like a mother than just an in-law. She was a kind and gentle loving soul that I could share anything with. She loved animals of all kinds. She was amazing to me, having worked to buy and board her own horse as a teenager, (at what is now Graceland Shopping Center) and going on to support and raise her two children by herself and buying her own house. She was an editor for a national magazine. She always had time for us, was glad to see us, and loved getting phone calls from us. We could talk about anything and everything. She was incredibly intelligent and generous as well. She had our love and respect. She will be sorely missed for now, but I take comfort knowing Jesus will resurrect her to perfect health just as Mary and Martha expressed faith in, and we will once again experience her wit and joy and love. Goodbye for now, Aunt Verna, and I eagerly await having you back!
